TORTURING PAIN.

Half This Man's Sufferings Would Have Killed Many a Person, But Doan's Cured Him.

Thousands of grateful people are telling every day how Doan's Kidney Pills cured them of distressing and dangerous kidney and bladder troubles.

Yet other thousands are suffering every day from these same ills. Why? They are either very negligent or very skeptical. Neglect of kidney disorders leads to dropsy, diabetes, Bright's disease and other fatal diseases.

Sincere, honest testimony like the following should convince every skeptic.

A. C. Sprague, stock dealer, of Normal, Ill., writes: "For two whole years I was doing nothing but buying medicines to cure my kidneys. I do not think that any man ever suffered as I did and lived. The pain in my back was so bad that I could not sleep at night. I could not ride a horse and sometimes was unable even to rise in a car. My condition was critical when I sent for Doan's Kidney Pills. I used three boxes and they cured me. Now I can go anywhere and do as much as anybody. I sleep well and feel no discomfort at all."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Sprague will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all dealers; price, fifty cents per box.

WORK THAT COUNTS

IMPROVEMENTS IN A JERSEY TOWN INSIDE AND OUT.

Civic Advancement as Seen at Montclair—Better Streets and Removal of Garbage—Improved Train Service. Sewing School For Children.

Much work is being done in cities and towns which does not receive a proper amount of credit. This is because of the unobtrusive way in which it is done in many instances. The true value of such work would best be recognized if it were suddenly to come to a stop, says Margaret Menet in Municipal News.

Work of this nature is being done by the Town Improvement association of Montclair, N. J., a place to make one draw a deep breath of satisfaction in contemplating it as a residence. This association, organized in 1894, is working along the lines laid out in the beginning except in what is being done for children, the latter being regarded as an important advance step. Other work has to do with matters which make life comfortable in a small town. And this is the work the benefit of which would best be seen were it suddenly to stop. It is like that prosaic matter of getting three meals a day for the members of one's household.

No one thinks of talking much about it, yet havoc would ensue if it were overlooked twenty-four hours.

The ordinance providing for prompt removal of snow from sidewalks was drafted and pushed through by the efforts of the Montclair Town Improvement association, a work the good of which will not be denied by city folk who go anywhere in the country to spend Sunday and who have to make an early train back Monday morning regardless of a blizzard overnight. Street signs guiding the stranger to his destination were secured by this same agency after efforts extending over four years. Through the work of the association, assisted by Robert M. Boyd, assemblyman, the amended law providing for the collection of garbage and ashes in towns under certain conditions was approved by the legislature. This is a good measure, but is one that needs still further attention. Some difficulty having arisen in the disposal of garbage. As the town is allowed to contract for only one year at a time, it is a difficult matter to find any one willing to equip himself with horses and wagons without a guarantee for the work for a longer period than twelve months.

From the beginning the association has worked for improvements in railroad service. Trains have been added from time to time and the schedule altered to suit the convenience of the public. The surroundings of the station, too, have been improved. Where once were heaps of ashes and old lumber one now sees flower beds and grass. Instead of a plaza, dusty in summer and muddy in winter, there are now good pavements.

Another line of work pursued by the association is the movement by the health inspector to place in tenement houses distinct rules, printed in Italian and English, to assist tenants in living in a sanitary manner. A sewing school is held every Saturday in the old library building from 9:30 to 11:30. This work was undertaken three years ago and has become quite systematized today. From sixty to sixty-five children attend these classes. They commence with the simplest patch, and last year the older girls made short waist suits for themselves. Last summer the school board assisted this work in a financial way. Cooking classes have been introduced and met with success. In order to make this work thoroughly practical only the plainest kind of cooking is taught.

Following up this work of teaching the children to carry usefulness into their own homes, the association later gave seed to the pupils of the Chestnut street school and offered a prize for the best home garden. In many cases the children not only supplied their own families with vegetables, but one lot is worth recounting. Having been seed, she sowed it in an old dish-pie. An effort is also proceeding to have the town authorities approve the appointment of a tree planting commission and thus to place all the trees of Montclair under central control.

To Teach Civic Beauty.
A class which should be beneficial in its influence has been formed by the Young Men's Christian association in New York, writes the Pittsburg Dispatch's correspondent. Underlying the idea that good citizenship is an extension of the principles which underlie the building of a great city or town is so far as these pertain to art. While the matter of professional art training detracts to teach the class, its community owes to itself to beautify its surroundings. This instruction covered by a chalk talk, followed by present day questions relating to park of schemes and buildings and the work of the municipal art commission. One evening in the week the class meets at the Metropolitan Museum of Art to take an object lesson in the subjects of art.

Yah Parsons directs the course and Nicholas Vachel Lindsay is the lecturer. The class is free.

Toronto Antolists For Good Roads.
As the roads in the vicinity of Toronto are said to be among the worst in the Dominion of Canada, the Toronto Automobile club has started a movement to have them improved, says the Motor News. The club accordingly has decided to offer at least $800 to municipalities for a road improving competition. There will be three prizes—$500, $200 and $100 respectively—which will be paid to the municipalities which show the piece of roadway one mile long on which the greatest improvement has been made by July 1. Points governing the awards will be proper drainage, serviceable width, efficiency of crown, hardness, smoothness and permanency of construction.

No first prize will be awarded unless there are five entries, no second prize unless there are eight entries and no third prize unless there are ten entries. No prizes will be awarded unless the work is finished to a standard approved by A. W. Campbell, commissioner of highways for the province of Ontario, one representative from the York county council and one representative of the Toronto Automobile club.

HAVE AR

No doubt you have by several million States, and we sell if they are not your money.

Some three years ago a prominent retail druggist—that a big change was to be made in the proprietary medicine business, public demanded to know what ingredients were of the preparation, and that reform was about to take place in the proprietary medicine manufacturing.

Our object was, first, to make a line of prescriptions such as tried out in our stores and for the very best of results, and then to own our own co-operative manufacturing company we would know the exact formula of evaluation we were selling, thus to give to the public the very edibles we could find at actual turning cost, plus a single retail.

This enabled The United States to escape the heavy advertising and other expenses have to be paid by proprietors. What was most important, safety and satisfaction to our customers because we druggists know we are selling.

A committee of experts pointed who spent a long time the merits of more than two formulas and prescriptions.

Three of the 200

FOR CATARRH—MUCU-TONE
The chief ingredients of Mucu-Tone are Glycerine, Carbide, Cascar Sagrada, Glycerine, and Sarsaparilla.

Gentian is recognized in medicine as one of the greatest tonics ever discovered. It is the foundation on which Mucu-Tone is built. Gentian combines in high degree the tonic powers of all the known "biters," with none of the disadvantages applying to them.

Cubebae have long been recognized as a specific in the treatment of all catarrhal conditions. Its action is prompt and its benefit almost instantaneous. In whatever part of the body the inflamed or diseased condition of the mucous membrane exists, the use of Cubebae has been recommended by the best physicians for many generations.

Cascar Sagrada is especially introduced for its necessary laxative properties. The combination of these with Glycerine and Sarsaparilla makes Mucu-Tone a remedy that attacks catarrh from every point, gradually restores and rebuilds the diseased tissues to their former health and strength, promotes digestion and creates a normal appetite. Bottle, 50c.

"Rexall" Remedies are with The United Drug backs up this "Rexall" preparation is guaranteed back and get your money.

REXALL

REMEDIES

HAVE ARRIVED IN TOWN.

No doubt you have heard of them. They are used by several millions of people throughout the United States, and we sell them to you with a guarantee that if they are not what we claim we will gladly refund your money. One remedy for each human ill.

Some three years ago a number of prominent retail druggists—realizing that a big change was to be made in the proprietary medicine business, that the public demanded to know what the ingredients were of the preparations they were advertising, and that a general reform was about to take place in proprietary medicine manufacturing and advertising, formed a co-operative company to meet the public's demand. This company was called The United Drug Co., of which the undersigned has become one of the two thousand members. Our object was, first, to manufacture a line of prescriptions such as we had tried out in our stores and found to give the very best of results, and second, by owning our own co-operative manufacturing company we would be able to know the exact formula of every preparation we were selling, thus enabling us to give to the public the very best remedies we could find at actual manufacturing cost, plus a single retail profit. This enabled The United Drug Company to escape the heavy charges for advertising and other expenses such as have to be paid by proprietary medicines. What was most important, it insured safety and satisfaction to our customers, because we druggists know just what we are selling. A committee of experts was appointed who spent a long time in testing the merits of more than two thousand formulas and prescriptions recommended by the various druggists constituting the company. From these, about two hundred were selected as being the best remedies known to medical science for the cure, each of its particular ailment. The exclusive rights to these remedies were then transferred to The United Drug Company, which has since manufactured them in its superbly equipped laboratories in Boston under the now famous name of "The Rexall Remedies."

Noted men, first of all, these facts:

1st. "Rexall" refers, not to one remedy but to about two hundred—each for some one particular purpose. Nobody knows better than The United Drug Company druggists the absurdity of the "cure-all."

2d. Each "Rexall" Remedy is a tested and proved success, selected for its conspicuous merit from many of its class. It had established reputations through their continued use by physicians before they became members of the "Rexall" family.

3rd. "Rexall" Remedies are sold at low prices because they are free from heavy manufacturing charges, jobbing profits, and the heavy expense of being advertised separately, as formerly.

The United Drug Company, which manufactures the Rexall Remedies, has already scored the greatest success ever known in the history of the drug business.

Three of the 200 "Rexall" Remedies, one for each human ill, are:

In whatever part of the body the inflamed or diseased condition of the mucous membrane exists, the use of Cubebs has been recommended by the best physicians for many generations. Cascara Sagrada is especially introduced for its necessary laxative properties. The combination of these with Glycyrrhine and Sarsaparilla makes Mucu-Tone a remedy that attacks catarrh from every point, gradually restores and rebuilds the diseased tissues to their former health and strength, promotes digestion and creates a normal appetite. WOMAN AND FASHION

An Attractive Waist.
The pretty and attractive blouse waist that is simple at the same time makes one of the most necessary elements in any woman's wardrobe. It is a bit more dressy than the severe tailored shirt waist, yet is not quite so dainty as the one in lingerie style, made either of lawn or fine silk, and is altogether useful as well as thoroughly attractive. This one can be worn with skirt to match or as a separate waist, suiting both purposes equally well, and is available for almost all seasons—waistings, wool and silk and even the mercerized one that so many women like to wear throughout the entire season. It can be either lined or unlined and made with three-quarter or full length sleeves. In the illustration it is stitched with silk and combined with tucked taffeta, trimmed with a tiny edge of velvet and little velvet buttons, but the vest and the collar and the trimming on the cuffs can be of any contrasting material that may be liked.

BLOUSE WAIST.

Jet Very Fashionable.
Jet jewelry appeared in the summer also, and now that the winter season is well under way this fashion has well nigh amounted to a craze. Old treasure boxes are being searched and old jet bracelets and pins and earrings brought forth and mended and worn with much satisfaction. And why not, since the smart shops are displaying modern replicas of them as the "latest novelty?"

Velvetees Popular.
The chiffon velvetrees and even corduroys are on view in some charming shades. For the younger generation they are vastly liked in sensible colorings, braided with several widths of tressed strands, from a soutache up to a four inch width. Plaid braids find favor here, and in the darker colored costumes they show up to delightful advantage.

All in Fur.
Fur cloths imitating the natural pelts are much used materials in children's wraps this season. Coats, caps, muffs and neck scarves are made of them, while not infrequently one sees a small youngster clothed from head to toe in this new fabric, and leggings are also made of it.

For Boy or Girl.
The one piece dress is a boon to the mothers of all small folk. It is so simple that several can be made with very little labor and expense, and it suits the youngster as no other garment can do. This one is appropriate for boys of two and four and for girls up to the mature age of six, the only difference in the dresses worn by the two sexes being found in the closing, which in one instance is on the left and the other on the right side. This one is made of fleece lined white pique and is warm at the same time that it is dainty and attractive. There are a great many materials, however, that are used for dresses of the sort. The unlined pique is liked by many mothers at all seasons of the year, and for the darker, more serviceable frocks such materials as serge and panama cloth are greatly liked. There is the effect of a wide double box plait at both front and back, and the moderately full sleeves are tucked at the wrists.

Don't let the baby suffer from eczema, sores or any itching of the skin. Doan's Ointment gives instant relief, cures quickly. Perfectly safe for children. All druggists sell it. 9-13

BRYANT'S FOND.

Daniel Hayes of South, Paris is in the employ of the Dearborn Spool Co. Fred H. Whitman has been appointed administrator of the estate of Bert G. Whitman.

Mrs. Edith Bryant returned from Lewiston and Leeds, Monday, after an absence of several months.

Roy Titus has a new sleigh and also another one that was smashed Saturday night near G. A. Whitman's.

The dramatic club will probably visit Rumford Corner or West Paris a little later with their comedy, Capt. Rackett.

G. L. Heath left for Calais Tuesday. He will make his headquarters at Woodland, ten miles out of the city for the present.

True Childs of Melette, South Dakota, was in town last week. He reports a rough winter in the west especially in Montana and North Dakota.

The comedy given under the auspices of the V. I. S. on the evening of Feb. 21 proved a success. The play Capt. Rackett was in three acts with the following characters:

Capt. Robert Rackett..... G. E. Cole
The Tolman..... N. J. Swan
Mr. Daboy and Hobson..... Fred Cole
Charles..... Abbie Farman
Mrs. Tolman..... Helen Cushman
Ray..... Nellie Froese

They all made a good impression and went through their parts in an excellent manner. About 25 couples attended the ball. Music by the Bacons and A. D. Feit.

Doc Heath is about town again. Fred Whitman is cutting wood for G. W. Perham.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Cushman visited Augusta this week.

Amanda Sheeran is gaining slowly. Ino Farman stays with her.

Elizabeth Briggs of West Paris is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ada Swan.

G. L. Cushman and G. W. Q. Perham spent several days at Augusta this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Farman expect to move on to J. M. Day's farm next summer.

It is a constant struggle to keep the roads open so that R. F. D. carriers can get through.

Franklin Grange has decided to run a hot dinner at the dining hall on Town Meeting day.

Minnie Cushman and son George visited at Roscoe Knight's, Monday, at Rumford Point.

Dr. Bradbury of Norway, was called in consultation with Dr. Wheeler on Sunday, at Ernest Curtis'.

Pomona Grange meets at West Paris next Tuesday. Fair, pleasant weather is expected at that time.

Daniel Hayes left the freight work at South Paris and came to work in the spool mill again. Mill orders are rushing.

Mrs. Phebe Crooker has finished working for Mrs. Augusta Cole and gone to her home. Mrs. M. Mooney of West Paris is working there. Mrs. Cole sits up some now.

Mr. and Mrs. Kilborn Perham returned from Lyons last Monday night. As the roads were badly drifted they spent the night with Harry Crockett's family, and Tuesday visited with Mrs. Emily Feit.

The death of Hon. Geo. F. Hammond at Paris Hill, takes the last of the old stage drivers on the route from this place to Rumford, Andover and Dixfield, which was established in 1851. The others were James W. Clark, James Dingler, Stephen Seavey, Edmund M. Hobbs, Joseph Tuttle, John F. Wright, Woodman. Among the oldest to run the line was Axel Tuttle, who was for many years a freight conductor on the Grand Trunk. His two sons now own the line which extends to Rumford Falls, Andover having been dropped within a few years.

GILEAD.

Fell into the River.
Ezra Carter, while cutting ice on the river last week, fell in the river but no serious damage was done except a severe wetting.

Mrs. J. W. Bennett is ill. Ivan Heath is working for G. E. Leighton.

Several friends from the village called on Edith Cole, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Eva DeCoster cut her hand very badly while removing some meat from a can.

The Mountain View Grange conferred the 3d and 4th degrees on Mrs. Mary Bennett and G. H. Coffin. A very pleasant evening was passed. Refreshments of cake and coffee were served. The music and singing was enjoyed by all.

Desperate Coughs

Dangerous coughs. Extremely perilous coughs. Coughs that rasp and tear the throat and lungs. Coughs that shake the whole body. You need a regular medicine, a doctor's medicine, for such a cough. Ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

We publish our formulae. We banish alcohol from our medicines. We urge you to consult your doctor.

Any good doctor will tell you that a medicine like Ayer's Cherry Pectoral cannot do its best work if the bowels are constipated. Ask your doctor if he knows anything better than Ayer's Pills for correcting this sluggishness of the liver.

ZEB WHITE'S TALES.

The Old Possum Hunter Tells of His Last Drink.

WIFE COULDN'T REFORM HIM

It Remained For Two Bears to Bring Him to His Proper Senses, and They Did the Reforming Act in Short Order.

[Copyright, 1906, by C. H. Sutcliffe.]
"I reckon that every man on these yere mountings was brung up along side of a whisky jug," said old Zeb White one evening as we sat at his fireside. "That don't mean that all are drunkards. It means that they've known what whisky was from the time they was born, and while some take to it others let it alone. I keep it in the house, as you know, but I give you my word I haven't had my nose to the jug for the last five years. I hain't sayin' that I didn't drink my full sheer up to that time, becase I did. I reckon I got away with as much

"Between me and her was two p'ars," moonshine as any other critter fur ten miles around, and I was fool 'nuff to feel proud of the fact.
"When I was married, fifteen years ago, my wife thought she could reform me. Mebbe I went a little light fur a year or so, but the reformin' didn't reform. I'd promise and promise, but as soon as I got out with a crowd I'd fill up. The only good thing about my gettin' drunk was the fact that I never raised a row at home. I simply went to bed and to bed, and if I left alone I'd sleep it off by next day. I had been sober fur three months when town meetin' day come along. When I got ready to leave home the old woman said:
"Zeb, you've been livin' like a decent human bein' fur some time past. Are you comin' home drunk or sober tonight?"
"Sober as a stump," I replied, not fearin' myself at all.
"Why not let town meetin' slide?"
"I couldn't. I've promised to be there to vote."

"That'll be heaps and heaps of whisky that, won't they?" she asked.
"Fur shore. But don't you be afeared fur me. I give you my word that I won't drink nuthin' stronger'n lemonade."
"That was a lively town meetin', with whisky flowin' like water, and though I held out agin it fur an hour or so, I had to take a drink at last. Then followed a second and a third, and by night I was roarin' drunk and fightin' everybody. They started to take me home in a cart, but when a mile from my cabin I got out and wouldn't go any further and was left there. It was a bright and beautiful moonlight night. I could jest remember that. How I got home after leavin' the cart I never could recall. I didn't know when I reached here and fell down in front of the house. The first thing I knowed was that somebody was pullin' me around in a mighty rough way. I opened my eyes and sot up, and that was the old woman on the doahstep, and between me and her was two p'ars. They would look at her and then at me, and it was their banlin' me around that had roused me up. I wasn't sober yit, you understand, but could reason things out after a fashion.
"Why don't you git the gun and shoot the b'ars?" I called to the old woman, but she never 'peared to notice me. The b'ars did, however. They turned from her to me and begun a sort of hosplay. One of them fetched me a sort of cuff on the ear that stretched me out and made my head begun playin' ball with my body. I knowed them fur b'ars, and I knowed that it would be all play until I tried to git away from them or fight back.
"Well, suh, I can't begin to tell you what them thar b'ars put me through that night. They rolled me over and over; they dragged me about feet first and head first; they pulled me down to the pliggen and then pulled me back; they used their teeth and claws only that they left marks behind that I didn't go away fur two months. Every time they rested I called out to the old woman, but she wouldn't answer. Sometimes she looked at me in a playin' way, and sometimes she was laughin' at the way I was tossed about. The rifle was on its hooks in the house and loaded, and in that the moonlight she could have shot one of the varmints through the heart, but she wouldn't move to do it.
"I reckon them b'ars sported with me fur half an hour or so befo' they had had 'nuff of play. By that time I was in rags and jest as sober as you are now. I have thought some of takin' out a patent on that adventure of mine. That drunk order have lasted me the best part of three days, but the b'ars cured me of it in about forty minits. Seem' the old woman would do nothin', my line was to play dead and hope the varmints would git tired and go away. They got tired of the play, but they wasn't through with me then. They began to growl and show sign of madness, and I called out to the old woman:

"Mary, can't you see that they all are run gittin' mad?"
"I kin," she said, speakin' fur the first time and speakin' mighty keerslessly at that.
"They all will begin to bite and claw in a jist now."
"They will fur shore."
"Hain't yo' gwine to do anything to help me?"
"Nothin' tall, Zeb. A man who can't stay sober had better be dead, and it don't make no difference whether he falls from a tree or gets clawed up by b'ars."

"But yo' wouldn't see yo' own husband perish befo' yo' eyes, I take it?"
"I'll think it over. If yo' are gwine to live on, yo' got to keep sober arter this. It will be well fer yo' to have some scars to put to. Arter yo' have been half killed mebbe I'll do sunthin', but it does seem pizen mean to drive the b'ars away when they're havin' so much fun."

"Jest then the old b'ar took a long look into my face and then uttered a growl that made chills shake me all over. He knowed me, and I knowed him. He was a b'ar I had hunted fur three years, and he had three of my bullets in his body at that very minute. Yes, suh, that critter knowed me fer Zeb White, the man who never yit had mercy on a b'ar, and he seen that his time had come to git even. He hauled off and gin me a swat that almost stove in my ribs and then bit me twice. His mate pitched in, and the next two minits I was mauled about between 'em like a rag doll. It was no use of my tryin' to make a fight fur it. They was all over me all the time, and even if I had a knife it wouldn't have helped me out.

"What sent the pesky critters off at last was the old woman shootin' down the he b'ar, but I was left in a powerful sad state. I had skeered a stitch of clothes left on me, and I was one mass of bites and claw marks. I had to be dragged into the house and boosted into bed, and I didn't tech toe to the floor fur three weeks to come. I hadn't any bones broke, but the claw marks and bites of a b'ar don't heal fur a long time. Durin' all the time I was in bed and sufferin' the old woman kept whisky under my nose. I had the scent of it until I positively hated it and begged her to take it away. The old thing taken together worked a cure so thorough that, though I run a moonshine still fur three years, I never tasted a drop of the stuff."

"Did Mrs. White have anything to say to you after you got better?" I asked.

"Never a word," he answered. "What was the use? If all that b'ar play wouldn't stop a man from makin' a fool of himself ag'in, then words would be thrown away. No, suh, she never done said a word, and that's why I reckon she's jest the nicest and best wife in this yere state of Tennessee."
